IV. Chair Report on 2021 Program Slate

A. Submissions—2

We are not at risk for losing slots as CSCA realizes the strange circumstances (pandemic).

B. Slots Allocated—2 (different than typical; based on #submissions)

C. Panels Slated—1

- Looking Back, Looking Forward: Instructional Tools and Techniques that are Inspiring Us as We Move from Pandemic to Best Practices
- Friday, 3/26 3:00-4:15 p.m.

- We did not award a “top panel,” since we only had one. Jacki was considering ethical issues as she helped develop this one panel.

V. Officer Election—Secretary

A. 3 year term (Secretary, Vice-Chair, Chair)

B. Chair plans the conference program

C. Voting through Google Forms

- Kellie Smith and Kim Omachinski self-nominated as Secretary.
 - Both accepted the nominations.
- Heather Nesemeier described possibility as co-secretaries.
- Heather Nesemeier motioned to close and Allison Brenneise seconded
- Heather Nesemeier motioned to vote by proclamation to accept Kellie Smith and Kim Omachinski as co-secretaries.

VI. New Business

A. 2022 Conference: Re-Connect

- March 30-April 3, 2022, Madison, WI
- Program Planner—Debra Ford
- Submission Due Date: October 8, 2021

B. Discussion of Instructional Resources’ purpose and future direction (“Gavel” passed to Samantha Dunn at this point to continue leading the discussion)

- What is our identity? Use Re-Connect theme to specify
 - Want submissions along this line of clarifying identity.
- Some fear we could be dismantled and absorbed by another division.
- Instructional resources are helping us do everything from teaching better to grading better.

C. Election Results

- Kellie Smith and Kim Omachinski were elected by proclamation as co-secretaries.

D. Discussion of 2022 Conference panel/topic ideas

- How are we different from Comm Ed, communication technology and even GIFT? It is defined in our By Laws.
 - Comm Ed: Advancement of practical, pedagogical, methodological, and theoretical interests of its members. (186 members) More about teacher development.
 - Comm & technology: computer mediate communication, robotics, virtual reality, online interaction\, and other aspects directly relevant to communication and technology. How technology impacts and is impacted by communication. (61 members)

- US: foster efforts of researchers in topics related to instructional resources including all forms of technology, assessment, and instructional ideas. (91 members) More about activities and actual resources.
- Panel idea: a joint session with us and Comm Ed to demonstrate difference
- Do we redefine our bylaw description after a panel discussion?
- Reason for keeping: give more space for exposure and such for members (chance for serving, etc).
- Short course idea: on instructional resources, tools, including accessibility issues.
- Panel idea: A panel of GIFTs (co-sponsor): move from poster boards of the past to using social media, podcasts and plethora of other web-based resources.
- Panel idea: Instructional resources is our tool kit just as communication skills is the tool kit for all the discipline. Could have individual panels about specific tools/products. Adding people teaching different areas of the discipline using same tool/product. (Flipgrid, Webex, Teams, etc)
- Panel idea: reconnecting students through Social Annotation (Perusall, Hypothesis). Create community in a class.
- Panel idea: Hands on session, with open house where people can move from table to table and see someone talk about each tool. Like GIFT, but about specific tools/products. Could be a happy hour, perhaps get sponsored by a company.
- Panel idea: Accessibility issues panel (in terms of FERPA, other privacy), but also about costs of resources.
- Create a handout or USB drive (with sponsor) or some other kind of handout item, with QR code or something to have a separate way of promoting ourselves, to remind folks to submit to IR. Have Facebook, Twitter, TikTok. Our facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/cscainstructionalresource>
- Panel idea: About IR as folks transition back INTO the classroom.
- Panel idea: Potential job fields and professions that are options for educators/faculty within instructional resources. And also: Professional development opportunities for areas to explore, coursework, webinars, certificates, degrees in other areas (possibly co-sponsor with Grad student or Adjunct/temp faculty divisions)
- Make sure we have good titles!

VII. Adjournment

Official call to adjourn at 10:45am by Samantha Dunn
