- d. Review. The Executive Committee will annually review Caucus membership levels and activities. Should membership fall below 25 members for two consecutive years, or should the Executive Committee believe that the Caucus's activities are inappropriate, the Caucus's leadership will be notified and given two years to correct the problem.

POLICIES

Association-Wide Award Creation Policy

1. The granting of any Association-wide award for scholarship, teaching, or service in the name of the Central States Communication Association may be proposed to the Executive Committee by any member of the Association.
2. Any Association-wide award must be supported by an endowment fund of at least $5,000, which will be managed by the Executive Director.
3. An award may carry the name of a current or past Association member. The naming of an award for an Association member shall be considered appropriate only if the award is clearly associated with the professional distinction of that member.
4. To create an Association-wide award, an Association member must submit a proposal to the Executive Committee. The proposal must contain:
  - a. A rationale for the award. Typically, awards are presented to recognize outstanding scholarship, teaching, or service, or to encourage such activities. The rationale must also state how the award either relates to or differs from other Association-wide awards in existence. Should the award be named for a current or former member, justification for the naming of the award for the individual in question is required, including, but not limited to, that individual's professional distinction in relation to the award and that individual's connection to CSCA.
  - b. A description of the procedures used to determine the recipient of the award, including, but not limited to, the method of nominating individuals for the award and the criteria for evaluating those nominated individuals for the award.
  - c. An identification of the monetary stipend, if any, which will be given to the award winner along with the identification of the monetary sources that will be used to fund an endowment account created specifically for the award. The endowment account must contain a minimum of $5,000 before the award will be granted.
  - d. A plan as to how the initial $5,000 will be raised.
5. The proposal for the award must be approved by the Executive Committee prior to any solicitation for funds or nominees affiliated with or through the Association.
6. No award may include a monetary stipend drawn from the general funds of the Association. Any award carrying a monetary stipend can only be funded by an endowment created specifically to fund the award. Approval and presentation of the award by the Association shall terminate with the termination of that endowment.

7. The recipients of any award from the Association shall be selected by a committee of no less than three nor more than five members of the Association. The committee shall have a chair and a vice chair. The chair shall appoint the members of the committee, with the exception of the vice chair. The vice chair shall be appointed by the First Vice President and shall succeed to the position of chair the following year.
8. The criteria for the selection of award recipients shall be included in the initial award proposal to the Executive Committee and are subject to amendment by the Executive Committee. If any changes made by the Executive Committee are not acceptable to the Association member proposing the award, the proposal may be withdrawn by that individual.
9. If a proposal for an award is approved by a majority of the membership of the Executive Committee in attendance at a regularly scheduled meeting of the Executive Committee, and if any changes made by the Executive Committee are approved by the Association member initially proposing the award, the award will be instituted at the next annual convention.
10. Endowed awards that either do not produce adequate yield to fund an award or are otherwise considered underwater shall still be granted without a monetary stipend until a time when the stipend can be resumed. Every effort should be made by Association members to increase the fund to levels that will reliably generate an annual stipend of substance. The Association is under no obligation to fund past award recipients who did not receive a stipend due to a lack of endowment monies.
11. Suspension of awards is at the discretion of the Executive Committee and should only be considered should affiliation of the named award bring discredit or dishonor to the Association. In this instance, the Association should consider renaming the award following the procedures outlined above.

Interest Group, Caucus, and Section Named Award Creation Policy

1. The granting of a named award by an interest group, a caucus, or a section may be proposed to the Executive Committee by the leadership of that interest group, caucus, or section.
2. Named awards in existence prior to January 1, 2016 will not be subject to the criteria for the creation of such awards, with the exception of item eight.
3. An award granted by an interest group, a caucus, or a section may carry the name of an Association member providing that the member is in good standing or the name of a member who is deceased but was a member of the Association in good standing for a significant period of time prior to his or her death. The naming of an award for an Association member shall be considered appropriate only if the award is clearly associated with the professional distinction of that member.

4. Any named award granted by an interest group, a caucus, or a section must be supported by an endowment fund of at least $2,500, which will be managed by the Executive Director.
5. The creation of a named award by an interest group, a caucus, or a section must be approved by two-thirds of members in attendance at the group's meeting at the annual conference.
6. Once approved by the interest group, caucus, or section membership, the leadership of the group must submit a proposal for the award to the Executive Committee. The proposal must contain:
  - a. Notification that the named award has been approved by two-thirds of members in attendance at the group's meeting at the annual conference, including the numerical results of the vote and the date on which the vote took place.
  - b. A rationale for the award, specifically justification for the naming of the award for the individual in question, including, but not limited to, that individual's professional distinction in relation to the award and that individual's connection to CSCA.
  - c. A description of the procedures used to determine the recipient of the award, including, but not limited to, the method of nominating individuals for the award and the criteria for evaluating those nominated individuals for the award.
  - d. An identification of the monetary stipend, if any, which will be given to the award winner along with the identification of the monetary sources that will be used to fund an endowment account created specifically for the award. The endowment account must contain a minimum of $2,500 before the award will be granted.
  - e. A plan as to how the initial $2,500 will be raised.
7. If a proposal for a named award granted by an interest group, a caucus, or a section is approved by a majority of the membership of the Executive Committee in attendance at a regularly scheduled meeting of the Executive Committee, and if any changes made by the Executive Committee are approved by the interest group, caucus, or section leadership proposing the award, the award will be instituted at the next annual convention.
8. Endowed awards that either do not produce adequate yield to fund an award or are otherwise considered underwater shall still be granted without a monetary stipend until a time when the stipend can be resumed. Every effort should be made by Association members to increase the fund to levels that will reliably generate an annual stipend of substance. The Association is under no obligation to fund past award recipients who did not receive a stipend due to a lack of endowment monies.

9. Suspension of a named award granted by an interest group, a caucus, or a section is at the discretion of the Executive Committee and should only be considered should affiliation of the named award bring discredit or dishonor to the Association. In this instance, the interest group, caucus, or section should consider renaming the award following the procedures outlined above.

Anti-discrimination Policy

Membership in CSCA is open to anyone interested in furthering the mission of CSCA. As such, CSCA encourages participation from all members, regardless of member sex, race, age, ethnicity, religion, marital status, sexual identity, gender identity, health status, HIV status, physical ability, or mental ability. CSCA does not discriminate in hiring, electing, or appointing individuals based on any of the aforementioned characteristics. Further, CSCA discourages the use of language that discriminates or promotes social prejudice by any of its members and will not allow the use of such language within its governing documents, official correspondence, or calls.

Ableist-free Language Policy

In correspondence with its Anti-discrimination Policy, CSCA will not allow the use of ableist language—any language that discriminates or promotes, purposefully or not, social prejudice against people with disabilities—within its governing documents, official correspondence, or calls. This policy especially applies to the use of the terms “blind review” and “blind copy” in convention and journal calls for papers. “Anonymous peer review” and “unidentifiable copy” or similar ableist-free terms should be used in place of these previous terms.

Privacy Policy

CSCA is committed to protecting the privacy of its members. As such, CSCA does not sell or share its membership list with any agency, organization, or institution without the consent of the membership.

Audiovisual Equipment Policy

CSCA will attempt to provide multimedia projectors based on financial considerations to all presenters who request them at the time of the program submission.

CSCA is unable to approve requests for equipment such as personal computers, laser printers, satellite links, teleconference equipment, DVD players, or Internet access. CSCA members or individuals attending the convention either may elect to rent such equipment from the convention hotel at their own personal expense or may bring their own equipment, unless prohibited by the convention hotel. (Please check beforehand with the Executive Director about the convention hotel policy.) If individuals provide their own equipment, the hotel may elect not to help if service is needed. If the hotel does help and assesses a fee, the individual requesting help is responsible for all charges.

Any technology requests made by CSCA participants at the convention that was not requested and approved at the time of the program submission cannot be charged to CSCA.

Job Posting Policy

All colleges and universities who have a departmental membership are allowed to post job openings on the website free of charge. Other colleges and universities wishing to post job opening must pay a fee of $75. Job postings submitted must include instructions for an ending date of when they will be removed from the website. An initial e-bulletin will be sent announcing the position.

Obituary Policy

All deceased members of CSCA will be accorded an acknowledgement of their death upon submission of the information by a colleague. Any information about the death of a member should be communicated to the Executive Director for consideration for publication in the CSCA newsletter. A few sentences describing the person's history (date and place of birth, professional address and title) and professional accomplishments are appropriate. CSCA is not responsible for the content of the obituary.

Volunteers at Conferences Policy

The policy established for the number of volunteers that would be allowed to participate in the conference is as follows: The cap for volunteers is 10 (this is the total number of undergraduate or graduate volunteers). In order to receive free conference registration, each volunteer must serve a minimum of 4 hours; however, volunteers are not allowed to attend any ticketed event (i.e., Awards and Business Luncheon) unless they purchase a ticket for that specific event.

Technical Director Stipend Policy

In return for services provided, the person appointed as conference technical director by the Executive Director will receive reimbursement for miles traveled to the conference at the standard Federal rate. This mileage shall only be paid if the technical director drives to the conference and if the technical director transfers equipment to the conference. The technical director shall also receive lodging from the association for each night of the conference as well as one additional night so that equipment can be set up for the conference.

Constitution and Bylaws Policy

The Central States Communication Association Constitution and Bylaws must be openly accessible on the Association's website.

All members of the Association are strongly encouraged to read the Central States Communication Association Constitution and Bylaws carefully and in detail to ensure familiarity with its contents.

All members of the Executive Committee are strongly encouraged to read the Central States Communication Association Constitution and Bylaws carefully and in detail at least once per calendar year to ensure familiarity with its contents.

Convention Slot Procedures Policy

All Interest Groups, Caucuses, and Sections are given 2 convention slots (one for business meeting and one for panels, discussions, papers) if their group meets the required number for membership.

After submissions close, the Executive Director/First Vice President informs unit planners of their number of convention slots. The number is calculated based on the number of submissions (your group's submissions as a percentage of total conference submissions) and divided among the available conference rooms and time slots (in a nutshell: if you receive 5% of the submissions, you will receive 5% of the available session slots). These slots are in addition to the 2 automatic slots.
