About Central States Communication Association

Central States Communication Association (CSCA) is a professional, academic organization of primary and secondary school teachers, students, college and university professors, and communication professionals. CSCA was founded in 1931 to promote the communication discipline in educational, scholarly, and professional endeavors. The association, which consists of the 13 Midwestern states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Indiana, and Ohio, is governed by an Executive Committee and is legislated by its constitution and by-laws. CSCA has 22 Interest Groups, Caucuses, and Sections that promote particular communication areas. The association hosts a yearly convention within the 13 states, maintains a website (www.csca-net.org), publishes a newsletter three times yearly, and publishes the journal Communication Studies on a quarterly basis.

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Welcome to the 86th annual meeting of the Central States Communication Association! We are glad you are here!

We hope you enjoy the exceptional lineup of papers and panels, tremendous preconference activities, short courses, CSCA Scholar Conversations, a fantastic exhibit hall, as well as the vibe of Minneapolis, Minnesota—a great conference city where we hope that you will enjoy a night out on the town. Also, you will notice the great restaurants and shopping venues in close walking distance from the conference hotel. We hope that you enjoy the many opportunities the city has to offer.

On behalf of the entire association, I would like to thank CSCA First Vice President Blair Thompson for the outstanding job he has done as the primary program planner. I would also like to thank the Executive Director Jimmie Manning for his work on the conference and for his constant advocacy of the association. Thank you to the unit program planners, local hosts, executive committee, volunteers, reviewers, presenters and everyone who helped make this conference possible.

Our association continues to thrive. We continue to grow in numbers and our presence in the discipline of communication. Within the past year, we have established a new journal, launched our new website and more.

The convention theme encourages us to Create—new ideas, setting goals and thinking big support the association and the discipline. I hope you take the time to reflect on Blair’s planning theme with your friends and colleagues. Our professional community gives us a place to Create new teaching and research ideas with our closest friends. We come together to Create new ways of thinking and reflecting together as a community of scholars.

The ideas and visions represented through the conference theme are evident in many of the papers and panels you will experience at the conference. And, these ideas and visions can be achieved as we continue to develop and strengthen the foundation of our association and our discipline.

Let’s continue to Create new ways to carry each other forward. I hope you all enjoy the conference!

Shawn T. Wahl

Offering a Master’s Degree in Organizational Communication

Integrating communication theory, practice, and problem-based research, we prepare students for professional and academic life. Our graduates work in settings such as the Christian Music Industry, Kentucky State Legislature, and IBM. Many go on to doctoral programs including those at University of Missouri, Ohio University, Kent State University, Purdue University, University of Texas—Austin, and Bowling Green State University.

We are proud to honor
Dr. Blair Thompson
Associate Professor
First Vice-President of CSCA

We thank him for all the dedicated work towards planning and ‘creating’ the Central States Communication Association 2017 Convention!
Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to Minneapolis, Minnesota and the 86th annual meeting of the Central States Communication Association! Thanks for all of your hard work putting together thought-provoking papers and panels, and integrating this year’s conference theme, Create, in meaningful ways. The constitutive approach to communication is at the heart of my teaching and research, so making Create the conference theme has felt like an extension of my academic identity. I find it amazing that Dawn Braithwaite planted the seeds for this year’s conference theme in my very first doctoral class, illuminating a perspective that continues to shape my perspective on communication. I hope in some small way that this conference theme will encourage you to keep thinking about the role communication plays in creating your connections, relationships, identity, knowledge, and reality and even your CSCA experience.

Conference planning is a labor of love. It has been a true honor to serve as the conference planner for CSCA 2017. I am incredibly thankful to all those who have assisted me in the planning process. I cannot thank the interest group planners enough; you were an amazing group to work with in the year leading up to the conference! There are countless other individuals who I offer my sincerest gratitude. Jimmie Manning’s undaunted effort and creativity as Executive Director has raised the bar in making the events at the conference unique, dynamic, and meaningful. CSCA is the place to be as far as regional conferences go, and Jimmie’s behind the scenes work related to the conference locale and special events associated with the conference have gone a long way in setting CSCA apart. I am also indebted to those who preceded me in this role, as our most recent conference planners have been more than gracious in answering questions and offering sage advice about the conference planning process. Shawn Wahl, David McMahan, and Leah Bryant receive my thanks and admiration for their work as CSCA Presidents. Thanks also to Minnesota State University, Mankato and their students who are the local hosts. And finally, thank you to Western Kentucky University, including Helen Sterk (Director of the School of Communication), my conference planning assistants (Jessica Cherry, Cathryn Ellis, and Madison Loyd-Webster), and our officiate associates (Laura Wagoner and Cyndia Tarrence) for all of their support in creating the CSCA program and planning the conference.

Thank you all for your dedication to CSCA. It was truly an honor to serve the association.

Sincerely,

Blair Thompson
CSCA First Vice-President

Preconference One
Creating Connections with Our Host City: Conversations with Communication Scholars and Local Nonprofit Leaders

0101 Wednesday 1:00-2:05 PM                                                Regency

Central States Communication Association Preconference One, Part A: A Conversation about Persuasion and Diversity

Sponsor:        Amy Aldridge Sanford, Second Vice President
Chair:          Amy Aldridge Sanford, Second Vice President
Presenters:     Alberto González, Bowling Green State University
                Sandra L. Pensoneau-Conway, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale
                Christopher Rudick, Northeastern State University

This panel brings together communication scholars from across the nation to discuss public advocacy and diversity in the non-profit environment. Scholars will discuss and offer practical advice for crafting appeals and engaging diverse audiences, whether donors, volunteers, employees, or recipients of services.

Central States Communication Association Preconference One, Part B: A Conversation about Building Relationships

Sponsor:        Amy Aldridge Sanford, Second Vice President
Chair:          Jennifer L. Willis-Rivera, University of Wisconsin, River Falls
Presenters:     Anne Kerber, Minnesota State University, Mankato
                Katherine M. Kelley, Oral Roberts University
                Scott A. Myers, West Virginia University

This panel brings together communication scholars from across the nation to discuss building relationships in the non-profit environment. Scholars will discuss and offer practical advice for developing relationships with donors and volunteers. Additionally, discussion will focus on the superior-subordinate relationship within non-profits.
Central States Communication Association Preconference One, Part C: A Conversation about Volunteers and Researchers

Sponsor: Amy Aldridge Sanford, Second Vice President
Chair: Malynnda Johnson, University of Mount Union

Presenters: Christine North, Ohio Northern University
Victor Keli‘ Kinolu B. Cole, Metropolitan State University and HandsOn Twin Cities
Sadie Ward, Guthrie Theatre and HandsOn Twin Cities

Working within the communities around us, and around the world, not only builds important relationships that can provide research connections and service projects for students, but also valuable opportunities to give back. However, simply showing up at the door with good intentions is not always the best approach. This panel will discuss best practices when working within the non-profit environment, including how to develop and enhance internship and field experience programs. First-hand accounts from members of HandsOn Twin Cities, as well as communication scholars, will provide insight and guidelines to ensure mutually beneficial experiences.

Happy Hour with CSCA and HandsOn Twin Cities

Bring your business cards for the final segment of the preconference and join us for a networking mixer immediately following the panel presentations. Light refreshments and a cash bar will be available.

Adam Tyma, University of Nebraska, Omaha

CSCA members gathered together on a panel in Madison two years ago to discuss the emergence and proliferation of craft beer culture. That session led to the publication of Beer Culture in Theory and Practice: Working to Understand Craft Beer Culture in the United States (Lexington, 2017). This pre-conference session, in two parts, begins with a discussion with the editor, Adam Tyma, along some of the authors from the book, about their varied experiences with craft beer culture. The session concludes with a guided, private tour of three local breweries in the Twin Cities.

Central States Communication Association Preconference Two, Part B: Craft Brewery Tour

For those interested in learning more about the local craft beer culture in the Twin Cities, you can register and join us for a limited-seat tour. The “Surly bill” passed in 2011 now allows production breweries to sell pints of their craft brewers on site. Dozens of brewery taprooms have now cropped up around the Twin Cities in recent years. Join us to learn about how craft beer culture is being created in these spaces as we tour three of these sites. You must be 21 years or older to go on the tour. $60 fee includes bus pick up at hotel, transportation to three breweries, return to hotel, and tastings at all three breweries. Food is not included in the fee but will be available for purchase.

This event was only available through pre-registering and is not open to additional participants. The following individuals are confirmed to have seats on the tour bus: Michelle Calka, Anthony Cervone, Corey Davis, Jeffrey Delbert, Joel Diana, Jennifer Dunn, Mark Glantz, Andrew Herrmann, Lars Kristiansen, Brad Mello, Deb Schuelke, Danielle Stern, Kathleen Turner, and Adam Tyma

From Pokémon Go to the use of memes by U.S. Presidential candidates, the networked public of the internet has continued to be a persistent part of social discourse in the public sphere. The decentralized nature of networked publics allow for researchers to examine a virtual cornucopia of communities in the digital world. This panel examines networked publics using a variety of methods in order to demonstrate the complexity and depth of this area of study.

Presenters:
Allyn Lueders, Wayne State College
Christine North, Ohio Northern University
Laura D. Russell, Denison University
Shrinkhala Upadhyaya, Bowling Green State University

This discussion examines both virtual and discursive constructions of “eating disorders” that manifest across an array of contexts. Specifically, panelists will discuss the communication occurring on online social support forums, social media and college campuses. Drawing from notions of internalization, social stigma, muted group theory and the narrative engagement framework, panelists will draw theoretical links to applied practices for reconstructing the meaning of “eating disorders” and developing productive social support recommendations.

This panel includes papers that investigate how places and materiality shape rhetoric. Each essay approaches space, place, and materialism from a unique perspective. Collectively they examine the following: (1) how the material and intellectual place of a theorist shapes ideas, (2) disciplinary differences in viewing the relationship between memory and place, (3) the ability of a space to be both material and symbolic, and (4) how attention to materiality in rhetoric can create new forms of relationality.

Creating an Inclusive Communication Classroom: Learning from Experiences – Part I

Sponsor: Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity Caucus
Chair: Tim McKenna-Buchanan, Manchester University

Presenters: Jimmie Manning, Northern Illinois University
Sara Baker, Southern Connecticut State University
Ahmet Atay, College of Wooster
Stephanie L. Young, University of Southern Indiana
Jessica M. W. Kratzer, Northern Kentucky University
Tony E. Adams, Northeastern Illinois University
Scott Sellnow-Richmond, Columbus State University
Danielle M. Stern, Christopher Newport University
In the first part of this interactive double session we will reflect on why we believe inclusivity is something important in the communication classroom. The panelists will share experiences navigating inclusivity and teachable moments they have learned from in the classroom. Some will draw from research on microaffirmations and microaggressions, while others will address the importance of self-reflexivity. Our main goal is to create an inclusive, informative, and dialogic learning environment.

Creating a Place for All Students: Teaching Strategies for Teaching Upper Level Communication Courses to Non-Majors

Sponsor: Communication Education Interest Group

Chair: Sarah Symonds LeBlanc, Indiana University-Purdue University, Fort Wayne
Presenters: Tiffany R. Wang, University of Montevallo
Irwin Mallin, Indiana University-Purdue University, Fort Wayne
Joy L. Daggs, Northwest Missouri State University
Karla Mason Bergen, College of Saint Mary
Amanda Brown, University of Wisconsin Stout

As more academic programs require communication courses at the junior and senior levels, class make-ups consist of non-communication students, making it difficult to hold all students to the same standards. As such, presenters will discuss how they handle teaching upper level communication courses to non-communication students by sharing teaching strategies, how to make the non-majors excited about the course content, and some of the struggles they have experienced.

Creating a Dynamic Conference Experience: Getting the Most Out of Your CSCA Convention

Sponsor: Blair Thompson, First Vice President

Presenters: DeAnne Priddis, Middle Tennessee State University
Kristine M. Nicolini, University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh

Central States presents many unique opportunities to create powerful connections intellectually, professionally, and socially. This workshop provides new and returning CSCA members and graduate students the opportunity to learn how to maximum their conference experience at this year’s Central States Communication Association convention. The audience will learn how CSCA offers many great ways to get involved, build relationships and collaborations, and have fun. During our time together, we will discuss: Planning Your Itinerary, Networking, Marketing Yourself, Socializing, Down Time, and After You Get Home.

The Disparagement of Women: From Slut-Shaming to Slams: How Can Women Create a Positive Response to Incidents in the Media, Literature, School, Business and Other Settings?

Sponsor: Community College Interest Group
Chair: Cheryl Skiba-Jones, Trine University

Presenters: Jennifer L. Walton, Ohio Northern University

Richard G. Jones Jr., Eastern Illinois University
Emily Vajjala, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale
Jeremy Basso, Prairie State College
Aaron W. Gurlly, Beloit College
Deatra Sullivan-Morgan, Elmhurst College

The disparagement of women – from mere words to decision making that excludes them from being active participants in all levels of business, civic and social life – needs to be creatively addressed and examined. It is important that we as community members, scholars and human beings identify, educate and create pathways for creative responses and change. Panelists will share case studies, news stories, poetry, music, ideas and writings to illustrate the disparagement of women in literature, the media, in education, the business world and in society. Participants will co-create, share and dialogue about the realities experienced and discuss ways to respond.

Creating Bridges between Students and Non-Academic Communities through Community Engaged Assignments

Sponsor: Communication Education Interest Group
Chair: Sarah E. Riforgiate, Kansas State University
Presenters: Robert C. Swieringa, Grand Valley State University
Carmen Heider, University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh
QuaQuilla Rhea Walker, Northwestern University
Katherine J. Denker, Ball State University
Maggie Parson, Ball State University
Brian Graves, Florida State University
Sarah E. Riforgiate, Kansas State University

Community engaged teaching presents possibilities for learning, creating bridges between students and non-academic communities. To de-mystify how these assignments are developed and create new possibilities for teaching outside the academic classroom, presenters will share experiences with assignments that bring community into classrooms, foster student collaborative activist work with nonprofit organizations, develop critical self-reflections of privilege or oppression to create radio stories, and produce social justice video-documentaries to create student awareness while advocating for community groups.

Economic Issues in Higher Education: Exploring Association Advocacy

Sponsor and Chair: Blair Thompson, First Vice President
Co-Sponsor: Undergraduate Education and Administration Section
Scholars: Betsy Wackernagel Bach, University of Montana
Trevor Parry-Giles, University of Maryland
Cheri J. Simonds, Illinois State University
Christine North, Ohio Northern University

Given the economic struggles higher education presently faces within our region and beyond, it is imperative that regional and national associations begin to investigate how to take more of an advocacy role on this front. This panel includes scholars with administrative experience, many of whom have done key work with NCA, who will discuss strategies, steps, and processes that the association, schools, departments, and even individual faculty can take to try and make a positive impact as relates to financial standing and support in their respective states and institutions. This panel represents an important conversation starter that has the potential to assist an eventual task force in creating a strategic plan for advocacy work related to economic concerns in higher education for CSCA.

Podcasts as Public Intellectualism, Scholarship, and Engagement

Sponsor:  Media Studies Interest Group
Chair:  W. Joe Watson, Baker University
Respondent:  Tasha R. Dunn, Augustana University

Presenters:  Melody Hoffmann, Anoka-Ramsey Community College
Raechel Tiffe, Merrimack College
Molly C. Turner, Northeastern State University
CarrieLynn D. Reinhard, Dominican University
Christopher J. Olson, Dominican University

Podcasts can fulfill a desire to engage in public intellectualism, scholarship, and engagement with ideas from the humanities and social sciences to demonstrate how these abstractions can have concrete impacts on people’s everyday lives. The advent of Web 2.0 has allowed for more “personal broadcasting,” allowing any academic with the desire to become a public intellectual. This panel brings together different podcasters to discuss how they are utilizing such personal broadcasting to reach diverse publics.
We’re Off to See the Dean….Following the Yellow Brick Road to Create Solutions for Our Adjunct Instructors

Sponsor: Adjunct/Temporary Faculty Caucus
Chair: David Wendt, Keokuk High School/Southeastern Community College
Presenters:
Tammie Wiebers, North Central Missouri College
Jennifer Hough, Western Iowa Tech Community College, Sioux City
Kendra Bergenske, Western Iowa Tech Community College, Sioux City
Art Khaw, Kirkwood Community College
Rachel Murdock, Iowa State University

Academic publications and the popular press state that over 50% of post-secondary instructors are Adjunct Instructors. Certain colleges and universities cite that their teaching staffs are nearly 30 percent tenure track and 70 percent adjunct instructors. With this dramatic shift in instructional paradigm, several questions need to be considered: Should/are Adjunct Instructors evaluated on a yearly basis? Who has the responsibility to evaluate them? Should the Adjunct Instructors have equal training to tenure-track professors? Should Adjunct Instructors only teach introductory courses? Should Adjunct Instructors be limited to 15 credit hours per year as the HLC has proposed? Audience members will be encouraged to participate in this lively discussion.

Creating an Inclusive Communication Classroom: I Want to Be Better – Part II

            J. Kevin Barge, Texas A&M University

This panel is designated to celebrate the career of Robert C. Rowland. He has contributed much to the field of argumentation, debate, and forensics. Colleagues and students of Robert will recount his contribution to the field of argumentation and forensics.
Creating Communication Pedagogies for the Millennial Generation
(Communication Education Top Panel)

Sponsor: Communication Education Interest Group
Chair: Ahmet Atay, College of Wooster

Presenters: Ahmet Atay, College of Wooster
Linda B. Dickmeyer, University of Wisconsin, LaCrosse
Randy K. Dillon, Missouri State University
Deanna L. Fassett, San Jose State University
Donna R. Pawlowski, Bemidji State University

In this panel, our goal is to engage in a scholarly dialogue about millennials and how their academic and non-academic interests and everyday performances within and outside of higher education influence our communication with them. Because of their age range, some of the members of this generation are working at higher education as professor, lecturers or graduate students. In this panel, as presenters we focus on two main issues. First, we will examine the ways in which the members of the Millennial generation influence how we teach, or communicate with our students or colleagues. Second, we will discuss how to mentor the members of the Millennial generation.

Ramune Braziunaite, Cleveland State University

By October 2016, President Obama had made at least 13 state visits, including trips to Japan, Poland, Germany, Cuba, the United Kingdom and Israel. What international and intercultural priorities emerge from these visits? This panel examines the international discourses that emerge from President Obama’s international travel. Each panelist brings a unique international perspective to this important assessment of Obama’s discursive strategies for articulating and advancing U.S. and global interests.
A Light at the End of the Informative (or Persuasive) Speech Tunnel: An Innovative Speech Technique that Adjunct (and other) Speech Professors Can Easily Implement in Their Classrooms

Sponsor: Adjunct/Temporary Faculty Caucus
Chair: Jessica Samens, Bethel University
Presenters: Julie Walker, Southwest Minnesota State
Anne Kerber, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Riley Zahn, Minnesota State University, Mankato

Adjuncts and temporary faculty are often “road warriors,” traveling from school to school in an attempt to make a living. Despite often having affiliation with multiple institutions, adjunct faculty often are not afforded access to teacher development opportunities. When those opportunities are available, adjuncts may be too pressed for time to take advantage of them. With these constraints in mind, this panel offers various teaching ideas that can be easily implemented by adjunct (and other) instructors to provide variety in their lessons and engage students without investing a great deal of time. These ideas will help instructors meet the challenge of teaching the standard speech concepts (informative and persuasive) in new ways. The presenters will share alternative formats used in their classrooms including the use of Ignite speeches for informative and advocacy and action in persuasion.

Continuing the Dialogue of Critical Interpersonal Communication Studies: Framing Theory and Praxis

Sponsor: Interpersonal & Small Group Communication Interest Group
Chair: Aly Sander, Ball State University

Presenters:
Tony E. Adams, Northeastern Illinois University
Katherine J. Denker, Ball State University
Rebecca Johnson, University of Kansas
Kendra Knight, DePaul University
Jimmie Manning, Northern Illinois University

Critical research has become more prominent throughout all areas of the field of communication, however interpersonal research has yet to fully embrace critical research, with only 2% of interpersonal research identified as critical (Braithwaite, Schrodt, & Carr, 2015). This discussion based panel will explore ways in which we can incorporate critical theory in interpersonal communication as well as the future of critical interpersonal studies and practical implications of critical interpersonal communication research.

Short Course: Conflicted Freedom(s): A Perspective on Racial Unrest and Social Protest from Frederick Douglass

Sponsor: Blair Thompson, First Vice President
Presenters: Raymond Blanton, Creighton University
Trey Guinn, University of the Incarnate Word

Racial unrest. Social protest. Descriptions as fitting today as they were on July 5, 1852, when Frederick Douglass was tasked with commemorating the signing of the Declaration of Independence. In “What to the Slave is the Fourth of July,” Douglass embodies both patriotic pride and protest—scorching irony over convincing argument. In this short course, Conflicted Freedom(s), we create new perspectives for critically assessing the relationship between national pride and protest for our time.
Global Turn in Critical Intercultural Communication Pedagogies

Sponsor: Intercultural Communication Interest Group
Chair: Ahmet Atay, College of Wooster

Presenters: Ahmet Atay, College of Wooster
Melissa Beall, University of Northern Iowa
Jieyoung Kong, Western Kentucky University
Eddah Mutua, St. Cloud State University
Satoshi Toyosaki, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale
Diana Trebing, Saginaw Valley State University

Paulo Freire articulated well how power dynamics, inequalities and oppressive systems present in educational contexts prevent certain groups from finding their voices and learning about their histories. The goal of this panel is to connect and interweave Critical Communication Pedagogy (CCP) and Critical Intercultural Communication (CIC) scholarship and emphasize the importance of post-colonial and global turns as they are molded into a new area of critical global (Inter)cultural communication pedagogies.

Short Course: Virtually Everything to Know About the Reality of Virtual Reality in the Classroom

Presenter: Gordon S. Carlson, Fort Hays State University

Virtual reality is a fantastic tool for boosting student learning and engagement in communication, but most people don’t really know what it is and worry it’s too much work to incorporate into classrooms. Get a hands-on demonstration of incorporating games, mobile tech, and interactivity into any course. All tools are completely free and absolutely no background in tech is needed. The session is aimed at showing how anyone can use these approaches without the learning curve.
Best Practices and Ideas for “Creating” New Courses and Assignments in Organizational Communication

Sponsor: Organizational and Professional Communication Interest Group
Chair: Katherine M. Kelley, Oral Roberts University

Presenters: Scott Dickmeyer, University of Wisconsin, La Crosse
Deb Ford, University of Kansas
Greg Ormes, University of Wisconsin, La Crosse
Nicole A. Ploeger-Lyons, University of Wisconsin, La Crosse
Paul Sommer, Kent State University at Stark
Sarah Steimel, Weber State University
Jonathan Wickert, University of Wisconsin, Whitewater

This interactive discussion panel brings together educators from across the region to share best practices and ideas for the creation of new courses and assignments in organizational communication. Panelists share experiences on the process of creating materials and products such as: courses in workplace relationships and new media in modern organizations, intentional uncertainty in training assignments, a staged approach to analyzing case studies, organizational audits drawing on students’ experiences, and creating evaluations simultaneously with assignments.

Creating the Discussion: How the Pedagogy of Teaching Dialogue Creates Better Debate and Debaters

Sponsor: Argumentation and Forensics Division
Chair: Dallis Pike, Ball State University

Presenters: Ian Sheeler, Indiana University-Purdue University, Indianapolis
Terri Gibson, Anderson University
Jeff Geers, University of Dayton
Heather Norton, Fontbonne University
Michael Bauer, Ball State University
John J. Rief, Duquesne University
Stephen C. Koch, Capital University

This panel will discuss how students can use narrative as an argumentation strategy in public forum and traditional debate. Public judges are often very receptive and comfortable with comparing stories of argumentation. Debaters often implement a narrative approach to public forum debate to help judges new to debate understand and follow the debate. Panelists will look at such concepts from how we create narratives in debate to support arguments to the role of discussion/cross examination.

Presenters will draw on their experience and expertise to discuss (in)civility in the classroom from a variety of perspectives. Specifically, presenters will discuss and problematize the (im)possibility of civil dialogue surrounding polarized issues, (in)civility in online educational communication, the intersection of listening and (in)civility, and the ways in which “hegemonic civility” can work to maintain dominant interests and marginalize or silence “others.” There will be an interactive discussion in the second half of the session.

Creating a Space to Communicate our Gender (Identity): The “Non” Nonverbal Messages the Fashion Industry Sends

Co-Sponsors: Women’s Caucus
Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity Caucus
Popular Culture Interest Group
Chair: Molly C. Turner, Northeastern State University

Presenters: Malynnda Johnson, University of Mount Union
Joy L. Dags, Northwest Missouri State
Jessica M. W. Kratzer, Northern Kentucky University
Sarah Turner McGowen, Northeastern State University
Sarah Symonds LeBlanc, Indiana University-Purdue University, Fort Wayne

In a September 8, 2016, Washington Post column, Tim Gunn argued that the average woman is size 16, yet designers design for size 2 women. While plus-size women have been frequently discussed as neglected in the fashion industry, they are just one example of the many people who are not represented on the runway. Specifically, panelists seek to answer the question, “Where do non-model type individuals fit in the world of high fashion?”

Joe Tompkins, Allegheny College

This session brings the conceptual tools of critical media studies to bear on cultures of big-data surveillance and considers how these cultures and their associated media technologies pose a challenge to traditional paradigms of media studies. The papers address the social consequences of data-driven media culture, including the power of networked surveillance in everyday life, and the ways big data appear on the “small screen,” infusing our online and televisual environments.

NCA Information Panel

Sponsor: Blair Thompson, First Vice President
Chair: Trevor Parry-Giles, National Communication Association Interim Executive Director

Presenters: Christina S. Beck, NCA Immediate Past President
Jimmie Manning, NCA Inclusivity Task Force

All are invited for this fantastic session where you can meet officers and staff from the National Communication Association and learn more about what NCA has planned for the future and how you can be more involved. In addition, the panel will discuss NCA efforts toward greater diversity and inclusivity within the association and in the broader Communication discipline.
There are many direct benefits of NCA membership. All regular members receive:

- Online access to NCA’s 11 journals, both current and archived.
- Steeply discounted registration rate for NCA’s Annual Convention. Our convention draws more than 5,000 people and features more than 1,000 programmatic sessions.
- Leadership and professional development opportunities.
- Membership in NCA Interest Groups.
- Exclusive members-only content at www.natcom.org, including an extensive teaching and learning resource center; data about the discipline; research, publication, and funding resources; and much more.
- A print subscription to the award-winning Spectra magazine.
- Eligibility to win NCA awards.
- Eligibility for NCA grants.
- And more…

State of Minnesota Showcase – The Nuts and Bolts of Service Learning in the College Classroom

Sponsor: States Advisory Council
Chair: Donna R. Pawlowski, Bemidji State University

Presenters: Heidi Croatt, Anoka-Ramsey Community College
Karri Pearson, Normandale Community College
Donna R. Pawlowski, Bemidji State University
Theresa Hest, Minnesota State University
Pam Secklin, Saint Cloud State University
Lori Halverson-Wente, Rochester Community and Technical College

Service learning in the college classroom is an exciting and impactful way to teach communication concepts and bring students’ knowledge into our communities. While it has great potential, it also comes with many challenges regarding legal logistics, training students, student conduct issues, as well as creating and managing community partnerships. Panelists will share their experiences with these challenges and offer resources to help other instructors effectively utilize service learning in the classroom.

Raising Awareness: Suicide Prevention through Performance

Sponsor: Performance Studies and Theatre Interest Group
Chair: Raquel Williams, Purdue University, Northwest

Presenters: Kathryn Furlan, Purdue University, Northwest
Christian Lutes, Purdue University, Northwest
Hannah Tippet, Purdue University, Northwest

To generate discussion, awareness, and motivation towards suicide prevention, we propose a Suicide Prevention/Awareness performance event featuring performances of prose and poetry, and art exhibition (traditional and photographic) that tell the stories of those whose lives have been affected, either directly or indirectly, by suicide. Through this event we endeavor to create a space that brings this difficult subject matter to the forefront, creating a supportive space to facilitate discussion and motivate change.
Creating New Ways to Serve: Supporting Veterans through Engaged Citizenship

PTS(D): Canguilhem, Foucault, and the Othering of Veterans
Nick J. Sciullo, Illinois College

Meeting Our Civic Calling: Talking about Solutions to the Veteran Suicide Rate Crisis
Jennifer A. Jackson, Miami University
Morgan L. Ginther, Independent Scholar

Much of the discourse surrounding military enlistment is described in terms of the opportunity, patriotism, and honor. But what happens when veterans return home? “Create” is aptly situated for discussions about civic responsibility and service within a diverse society and the role communication scholars can play in promoting engaged citizenship. Participants will draw on the conference theme to explore topics related to veteran service, highlight key aspects, and promote productive dialogue to encourage civil discourse to improve the support of veterans.

Theories and Empirical Findings for Human-Robot Interaction

Sponsor: Communication Theory Interest Group
Chair: Patric R. Spence, University of Kentucky

Presenters: Autumn Edwards, Western Michigan University
            Chad Edwards, Western Michigan University
            Kenneth A. Lachlan, University of Connecticut

This discussion panel aims to facilitate a scholarly dialogue about human-robot interaction. Panelists, who have been researching human-robot interaction in diverse contexts (e.g., education, interpersonal, crisis communication), will present primary theories and empirical findings from their research. This panel would facilitate discussion on how communication theories are being used to understand the way we interact with robots and provide insights on how to advance theoretical foundations for the understanding of the human-robot interaction.

Creating a Buzz: Translating Research for Public Consumption

Sponsor: Shawn T. Wahl, President
Chair: Katie Lever, Western Connecticut State University

Presenters: Whitney Gent, University of Wisconsin, Madison
            Katherine Hampsten, St. Mary’s University
            Jessica Moore, Butler University
            Elizabeth Ribarsky, University of Illinois, Springfield
            Stephen A. Spates, Missouri State University
            Stacy Tye-Williams, Iowa State University

Fame and fortune is one thing, but bridging the divide between academic research and the individuals our research is intended to help is at the very heart of what makes research matter. However, finding ways to bring the communication discipline to the forefront of the public mind can be a difficult undertaking. Panelists will discuss their challenges and successes of creating a buzz about their research through radio, television, popular press, TED talks, and more.
Creating Interactive Course Shells: Creative Methods to Meet Students’ Changing Needs in Online, Hybrid, and Face-to-face Online Classrooms

Sponsor: Instructional Resources Interest Group
Chair: Kathleen Edelmayer, Madonna University

Presenters: Ashley Vasquez, Johnson County Community College
Lora Cohn, Park University
Deana Miller, Johnson County Community College
Staci Hubbard, Johnson County Community College, Metropolitan
Mark Noe, Park University

This panel will discuss various methods for creating more interactivity within a course shell for online, face-to-face, and hybrid courses in basic courses as well as upper-level and graduate communication courses. Specifically, panelists will discuss organization; personalized video and technology options; best and new practices for discussion threads; adjunct perspectives on creating courses that work for students and well as instructors utilizing multiple LMS programs; and meeting the needs of graduate students in the LMS.

Create Excellence in Academic Advising: Best Practices for Communication Faculty Advisors

Sponsor: Interpersonal and Small Group Communication Interest Group
Chair: Kaitlin E. Phillips, University of Nebraska, Lincoln

Presenters: Jeff Kuznekoff, Miami University, Middletown
Tiffany R. Wang, University of Montevallo
Sarah Steimel, Weber State University
Anne Kerber, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Laura Jacobi, Minnesota State University, Mankato

This discussion panel will feature faculty from a variety of institutions who will discuss best practices in academic advising for communication majors. Each panelist brings a different approach to this important interpersonal relationship and will share practices they have developed in their role as major advisor. By highlighting and sharing these approaches and experiences, we hope to create a discussion that helps CSCA members advance the discipline through advising.
Of Housewives and Heroines: Exploring Women in Media through Bravo, Disney, “Chick Flicks,” and Malala Yousafzai

Sponsor: Media Studies Interest Group
Chair: W. Joe Watson, Baker University
Respondent: Jerralyn Moudry, Wisconsin Lutheran College

Meet the Bravo Affluencers: Creating the Tech-Savvy Female Audience (Top Paper)
Jacquelyn Arcy, Saint Xavier University

Representations of Florence Nightingale, Bessie Coleman and Michelle Obama in Disney Junior’s Doc McStuffins
Jerralyn Moudry, Wisconsin Lutheran College

Hyperbolic Horror and Allegorical Feminism: Genre Play, the Double Text, and the Creative Conflation of Slasher Cinema and the Chick Flick (Top Student Paper)
Mick Brewer, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale

Creating Malala: The Role of Neoliberal Media Narratives in the Fight for Girls’ Education
Dana Schowalter, Western Oregon University

This panel, which includes the Media Studies Interest Group’s top competitive and student papers, explores the many ways in which media influence and are influenced by women. Although strong female portrayals can serve as a positive force of empowerment and advance our understanding of feminist ideology, an examination of these portrayals also reveals attempts to manipulate depictions of women in order to achieve advertising advantages and corporate ends. These four papers offer valuable insight into these issues.

Giving a “Voice to the Voiceless”: Deconstructing Exploitation within Critical Forensics Performances (Top Argumentation and Forensics Panel)

Sponsor: Argumentation and Forensics Division
Chair: Justin Rudnick, Minnesota State University, Mankato

Presenters: Anthony Peavy, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Alyssa Harter, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Crissy Dougherty, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Balencia Crosby, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Paige Russell, Northern Illinois University
In this panel, presenters will address issues surrounding the performance of topics on marginalized communities without being an active member of that community. Panelists from diverse backgrounds will discuss issues surrounding the selection of topics such as race, gender, disability, and LGBTQ identities in public address and interpretation events. When competitors who are not active members of these communities perform topics about marginalized groups, the question arises whether these performances are driven by ally ship and social change, or a desire to attain personal success as competitors.

The Department of Communication at Northern Illinois University would like to congratulate Paige Russell and her colleagues for their top panel award from the Argumentation and Forensics Division!

Marvel: Whedon’s Poison Pill
Robert Andrew Dunn, East Tennessee State University
Joss Whedon’s television series Buffy the Vampire Slayer debuted 20 years ago on March 10, 1997. At the time, no one foresaw the outsized impact Whedon would eventually have. Is Whedon a critical organizational scholar? Does Joss Whedon have “a” voice? Is Buffy still feminist? This panel will articulate the impact of Whedon twenty years after the Slayer’s television debut from multiple perspectives, including organizational, feminist, media literacy, and rhetorical.

Sponsor: States Advisory Council
Chair: Randy K. Dillon, Missouri State University

Presenter: Scott Jensen, Webster University

One of the fastest growing areas in the communication discipline is sports communication. It is difficult, if not impossible, to find any single person whose life has not been at least indirectly influenced by sports. Research highlights the connections between what is inherent in any sports contexts and what is at the core of teaching performance and communication. This program makes the case for integrating aspects of sports cultures into the teaching and practices in our formal and informal classrooms. It also reflects on the successful creation of a sports communication degree at Webster University. Along with a review of research and current trends regarding sports communication, this program provides suggestions for incorporating sports into activities appropriate for both performance and communication at all levels of teaching.

Steven Beebe described the basic course as the “front porch” of the communication discipline. As BCDs we have embraced this metaphor and used it as a frame for our academic conversations. We also recognize that the front porch can sometimes be slippery, messy, or even broken. As a result, when we ‘fall off of the porch’ we find creative ways to carry on. Panelists will explore strategies for overcoming complex issues in the basic course.

Lately new media technologies have been providing different ways of communicating people from the different parts of the world and also calling different pedagogical techniques and approaches to unpack social media driven lives, and make sense of digitalized cultural experiences. However, as communication pedagogy scholars, we often do not question the nature of these stories, or the messages they aim to deliver, or online platforms where most of our digitalized communication takes place. This panel aims to focus on these stories and experiences and provide future directions.

Presenters: Christine North, Ohio Northern University
Shawn Starcher, Kent State University
Lance Brendan Young, Western Illinois University, Quad Cities
Jessica Smith, College of Charleston
Kristin Wilborn, University of Houston
At times, Americans misconceive notions of what “mental health” means. This spotlight panel focuses on how communication is used to discuss mental health, whether generally or personally. This panel brings together mental health researchers, mental health issues and individuals who are comfortable talking about their mental health. Panelists examine mental health through many outlets including addiction, communicating with children, suffering from PTSD, how mental health is perceived in minority populations, and alternative methods of healing.

Creating Study Abroad Programs: Addressing the Challenges of Educational Outcomes, Administrative Constraints and Surviving Life with a Group of Twenty-Somethings

Sponsor: Intercultural Communication Interest Group
Chair: Peggy Kendall, Bethel University

Presenters: Ripley Smith, Bethel University
Kathleen Edelmayer, Madonna University
John R. Baldwin, Illinois State University
Grace Leinbach Coggio, University of Wisconsin, River Falls

Teaching in a study abroad context requires faculty to be creative and flexible. Challenges include the developmental processes inherent in students experiencing culture for the first time, complex group dynamics, and tight budgetary constraints. The panel will present both successes and failures in developing cross-cultural programs and activities. The session will also include creative sharing and problem solving that will help equip attendees to create life-changing study abroad programs.
Congressional Rhetoric: Cases of Creativity and Change

Sponsor: Rhetorical Theory and Criticism Interest Group
Chair: Darrin Hicks, University of Denver

Presenters:
Evan Layne Johnson, Georgia State University
Zornitsa Keremidchieva, Macalester College
Theodore Sheckels, Randolph-Macon College
John Rountree, Pennsylvania State University

Congress may be gridlocked, but that does not mean it “does nothing.” Contrarily, representatives creatively use a range of institutionalized roles, parliamentary maneuvers, media spectacles, and rhetorical forms to “do something.” This panel will discuss the 2016 House sit-in, recent filibusters, Congressional investigations, and the ranking minority member on the House Benghazi Committee in order to show that representatives have creative ways to check other branches, defend minority parties, “go public,” and even raises money.

Lance Brendan Young, Western Illinois University, Quad Cities

Understanding Workplace Aggression through the Relational Communication Perspective
Miwa Ito, Wayne State University
The competitive papers in this panel apply a communication lens to the hiring process and issues with employee absenteeism and aggression. Structuration theory is used in determining who future employees communicate with as they create expectations for “real jobs.” During the interview itself, the impact of phatic communication on an applicant’s future relationship with the interviewer is examined. To explain individual decisions to attend work or not, an employee absence stigma model, grounded in principles of symbolic interactionism and Goffman’s conceptualization of stigma, is proposed. Finally, the significance of using the relational perspective for examining workplace aggression is explored.

Online Education: Pros, Cons and Creativity in the Online Classroom

Sponsor: Instructional Resources Interest Group
Chair: David Wendt, Keokuk High School/Southeastern Community College

Presenters:
Jennifer L. Walton, Ohio Northern University
Christine North, Ohio Northern University
Jamie Ward, Eastern Michigan University
Cheryl Skiba-Jones, Trine University
Aaron V. Burton, Tiffin University

Online education has been touted as one of the best advancements in American education since the invention of the chalkboard. However, online education needs to be further studied and evaluated in terms of its application, content, delivery, personal student experience, course development as well as cognitive and skill set development over time. The participants in this panel will debate the pros and cons of online education as well as best practices and cautionary tales.

More than Moving Pieces: Board Games as Pedagogy

Sponsor: Instructional Resources Interest Group
Chair: Malynnda Johnson, University of Mount Union

Presenters:
William P. Jennings, University of Cincinnati
Kathleen M. Turner, Aurora University
Daniel Cronn-Mills, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Alexis Zoe Johnson, Arkansas Tech University
Alexis Pulos, Northern Kentucky University

People might think it's all "fun and games" when we talk about having students play, however this panel will provide the method and rationale for how games create opportunities for learning. Given the versatility of games this panel will present the argument for the use of games as a pedagogical tool. Specifically, this panel will discuss the various types of games we use, the theory and concepts they apply to, and the manner through which games can advance our pedagogy.
Theoretical Directions in Research Linking Health and Family Communication

Sponsor: Health Communication Interest Group
Chair: Jihyun Kim, Kent State University

Presenters: Nichole Egbert, Kent State University
Donna R. Pawlowski, Bemidji State University
Jeffrey T. Child, Kent State University
Maria Brann, Indiana University-Purdue University, Indianapolis

Panelists will share how a particular communication theory has informed their research that links health and family communication. Each will present a brief background of the theory, how they have used the theory in their own research, and a description of where they see this theory taking communication research in the coming decade. The panel will allow for audience participation and time to consider theories’ strengths and weaknesses for modern communication research.

Creating Conflict and New Avenues to Mental Wellness through Augmented Reality Gaming: How Pokémon Go Players’ Drive to “Catch ‘em All” is a Blessing and a Curse

Sponsor: Media Studies Interest Group
Chair: Christopher J. E. Anderson, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee
Respondent: Christopher A. Medjesky, University of Findlay

Presenters: Sarah Turner McGowen, Northeastern State University

Wanda Gregory, Seattle University
Lara Lengel, Bowling Green State University
Megan Tucker, George Mason University
Joshua Miller, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee
Robert Alan Brookey, Ball State University

Medical professionals and commentators have praised Pokémon Go, an augmented reality game for mobile devices, for the improved mental and physical health of players. Even those who were previously homebound have been observed moving about their communities to interact with other players. At the same time, players distracted by the game create issues by trespassing to find different Pokémon. Residents who live near active Pokéstops seem especially frustrated. Join us to discuss views of this polarizing game.
Presidential Spotlight: Kory Floyd

Sponsor: States Advisory Council
Chair: Dakota Horn, Illinois State University

Presenters: John Stanley, North Central College
Abby Escatel, DePaul University
Lauren Morgan, College of DuPage
Brandon Wood, College of DuPage

Intercollegiate forensics requires a significant amount of student resources; the time and energy forensics requires is often the deciding factor for participation. Because of these issues, nontraditional students have more burdens when participating in competitive speech and debate. This program analyzed how we can become more open and cater to nontraditional students, ensuring that all students gain from forensic activities.

Coping and Supportive Communication between Parent and Children about Bullying Experiences

Joshua R. Pederson, University of Alabama

The parent-child relationship represents one of the most influential dyads within family communication and has profound effects on individuals into adulthood. Many unique variables impact the motives and outcomes of communication. As communication scholars, we are called to create opportunities to better understand these phenomena and to share our knowledge with those who significantly impact the lives of children. This paper session explores this unique connection from diverse perspectives, significant stages in child development, and methodological approaches. The knowledge gleaned from each scholar’s contribution moves beyond the academy to create applicable knowledge benefiting parents and educators alike.

Chair: Donna R. Pawlowski, Bemidji State University

Presenters: Anthony M. Ocaña, Minnesota State University, Moorhead
Stephanie Ahlfeldt, Concordia College
Megan Orcholski, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee
Cindy Larson-Casselton, Concordia College

Nonviolent communication is based on language and communication skills that strengthen one’s ability to remain human when in relationship with others, even under trying conditions. The intent of this panel is to examine how integrating this topic area into an Interpersonal or Small Group communication class, would help guide students in reframing how they express themselves and hear others. This type of communication would allow students to articulate honest and clear messages, while simultaneously paying others respectful and emphatic attention.

This panel interrogates how food rhetoric is sutured to problematic formations of taste and social class; health and capitalist industry; culture and authentic, embodied representation; and how gender and class link up with notions of the popular and true. Each of the panel’s papers share a common concern with how food rhetoric both reflects and exploits the lived experiences and practices of communities—those marginalized by class and/or by corporate discourses of legitimacy.

Creative Opportunities and Innovation in the Honors Basic Communication Course

Sponsor: Basic Course Interest Group
Chair: Joshua N. Westwick, South Dakota State University

Presenters: Michael E. Burns, Texas State University
Barb Kleinjan, South Dakota State University
Aimee Sorensen, University of South Dakota
Deb Whitt, Wayne State College
Richard G. Jones Jr., Eastern Illinois University

Creating the honors basic communication course provides many unique opportunities for communication educators. Unfortunately, little research is available on the design of the honors basic course. This panel brings together a diverse group of basic course professionals to share creative pedagogy possibilities within the honors classroom. Most importantly, the panelists will discuss strategies unique to honors qualified students in order to produce a transformative learning environment. Time for audience participation and discussion will be included.

Central States Communication Association Forum on Diversity and Inclusion

Sponsor: Shawn T. Wahl, President
Moderator: Shawn T. Wahl, President

Presenters: David T. McMahan, Past President
Jimmie Manning, Executive Director
Carolyn Calloway-Thomas, Indiana University
Christopher Brown, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Lawrence R. Frey, University of Colorado, Boulder
Christina S. Beck, Ohio University
Tim McKenna-Buchanan, Manchester University
Jake Simmons, Missouri State University
Danielle M. Stern, Christopher Newport University
Eddah Mutua, St. Cloud State University

The promotion of diversity and inclusion is necessary for the advancement and vitality of the discipline and the association. If we as a discipline profess to study communication, we should study all communication and not just that of the privileged few within society. Furthermore, we must encourage and respect the voices of everyone in the discipline. This encouragement should not be provided regardless of cultural diversity but because of cultural diversity. A diverse community of scholars provides multiple perspectives and positions which will broaden our research while strengthening the discipline and securing its global reach.

We must encourage and provide opportunities for the examination of communication among populations generally not included in research. We should also encourage and provide opportunities of engagement and influence for members of the discipline historically excluded from such activities. In order to remain relevant in the lives of our students and in a global society, the discipline of communication and this association must recognize and promote diversity in its scholarship and among its members.

This Forum on Diversity and Inclusion is a continuation of the 2016 panel in Grand Rapids, Michigan. Open to all members of the association, it will provide an opportunity for the membership to share its views on how diversity and inclusion can be promoted by the association as well as its views on what successful diversity and inclusion means and how it will be recognized.

Full audience participation will be encouraged. Please come and share your concerns, your hopes and desires, and your suggestions for the future development of the association. Light refreshments will be served.

Short Course: Creating New Classroom Connections with Social Media Analytics

Sponsor: Blair Thompson, First Vice President
Presenters: Nathan Carpenter, Illinois State University
Stephen K. Hunt, Illinois State University
Lance Lippert, Illinois State University

Faculty representing ISU’s Social Media Analytics Command Center (SMACC) will demonstrate how they have created course projects centered on analysis, visualization, and decision-making processes using social media data. Attendees will learn how to apply basic data collection methods and analytical frameworks to sample projects in areas such as health communication, political communication, and critical media studies. The presenters will also demonstrate several free or low-cost analytics tools that have been effective for classroom use.

Traditional Goes High Tech: Creating Learning Opportunities via Technology

Sponsor: Instructional Resources Interest Group
Chair: Nancy Pearson, Minot State University

Presenters: Kim Weismann, Williston State College
Shannon Van Horn, Valley City State University
Christina Paxman, Minot State University
Jonna Ziniel, Valley City State University

The traditional classroom doesn’t necessarily mean that traditional methods must be employed to create a learning space. This panel discusses ways to integrate technology and Web 2.0 tools in the face-to-face class that enhance, rather than distract, learning. Employing best pedagogical practices, the panelists will provide attendees with tangible ideas and resources to take back and employ in their own classes.
Best Practices for Teaching Interpersonal Communication

Sponsor: Interpersonal and Small Group Communication Interest Group
Chair: Narissra Punyanunt-Carter, Texas Tech University

Presenters: Allison Thorson, University of San Francisco
Trey Guinn, University of the Incarnate Word
Scott Sellnow-Richmond, Columbus State University
Adam J. Harvey, Louisiana State University

Teaching interpersonal communication can be difficult for new instructors. At the same time, it can get rather dull for more experienced instructors. Thus, this discussion panel submission for the 2017 CSCA conference to the Interpersonal/Small Group Communication Division will focus on best teaching practices (e.g., readings, discussions, exercises, activities, etc.) for the interpersonal communication class. Each panelist will provide their best ideas for teaching interpersonal communication.

In today’s quickly changing world, our wellbeing and survival is being challenged by a changing array of problems. It is important that we as scholars and citizens share our knowledge and skill sets with others, as well as fostering an atmosphere of cooperation with individuals, organizations, businesses and communities. Critical thinking, games, books and fun can be used as a springboard to create a participatory community in which everyone can play a part.

Panelists will share their favorite characters, games, books and television shows that have portrayed meaningful moments, lessons and scenarios of the future. Participants will explain, demonstrate and share methodology, speak about the use of these methods to aid in problem-solving, new instructional design, as well as create application in the community at large.

The Purple Party!

Celebrate the presidency of Shawn Wahl with this fantastic Prince-themed celebration! We’ll have music, dancing, light snacks, a cash bar, and—for those who just can’t wait for things to kick off—even a little intellectual stimulation!

7:30 The Dance Party! Northwoods

Prince’s party music was undeniable, and tonight we’re playing lots of it! Head to the Northwoods room to see one of the coolest dance floors you’ve been on in a while and to dance to all the classic Prince songs. As a special bonus, we’ll also have song interludes from some of Prince’s most notable contemporaries, including Madonna, Michael Jackson, and David Bowie! And did someone say… dance contest? Get ready for a wild night! Cash bar available.

Please note: The music of Prince and Madonna often involves sexual and/or religious themes as well as language some may consider coarse or offensive.

7:30 The Reception! Regency

During the dancing, we will have a concurrent reception just next door. So if loud music and dancing are not your thing—or if you just need a break from shaking your tail feather—journey to the regency room for light refreshments and a cash bar. We’ll mingle, say our goodbyes, and—at 8:30 p.m. sharp!—we’ll give a special toast to CSCA President Shawn Wahl for all of the good ideas and hard work he has brought to the association.
