

CSCA Women's Caucus Business Agenda
2023 Conference (St. Louis, MO – March 31, 2023)

- I. Call to Order: Chair Becky DeGreff
- II. Approval of 2021 Minutes - approved unanimously
- III. Introductions
  - a. Leadership for the 2022 Convention
    - i. Chair: Becky DeGreff, University of Wisconsin-Stout
    - ii. Vice Chair: Kellie Smith, Texas A&M- Corpus Christi
    - iii. Secretary: Amanda Taylor, Bowling Green State University
- IV. Old Business
  - a. Chairs report
Discussion on films (Lauren)
  - b. Top Paper Award
Sarah Christine Vanderhagen
  - c. Top Student Paper Awards
The program is lucky to have us
  - d. Top panel awards were also presented.
    - 1. No cause announcement was done. discussion about (donation link for Indigenous People) or speaker come in and talk about what they are doing in the area.
- V. New Business
  - a. Secretary election - Kristin Fitzsmimmons, University of Minnesota – unanimous elected to secretary
  - b. 2023 Theme: Incoherence: Failures, Futures, Forgotten Messages (Grand Rapides, MI)
  - c. Ideas for next year's conference –
    - i. Panel ideas – Film showing and discussions (undergraduates opens)
    - ii. Threat to women about not being able to make choices about her own body.
    - iii. Difficult birth experiences (Reproductive justice)
    - iv. Menstruation poverty and stigma
    - v. Can we bring up to conference organizers – concerned about locations and the legislature on medial doctors etc. Negotiate an incoherent world?
    - vi. Resurrect next year is the networking mixer – maybe do it at a bar. No host event? During the day – come hang out after. You can request funding. Drink tickets. (10 slots this year)

- VI. Chair Becky DeGreeff officially hands over leadership to:
  - a. Chair and Program Planner: Kellie Smith
  - b. Vice Chair: Amanda Taylor
  - c. Secretary: Kristin Fitzsmimmons
- VII. Discussion and Announcements
  - a. 2024 Conference Ideas
    - i. Media literacy
    - ii. Connecting and Co-Sponsoring
- VIII. Meeting Adjourned at 10:15 P.M.